WELCOME TO YE THREE LORDS

At Ye Three Lords, we're all about creating unforgettable moments; whether you're planning a birthday, corporate event, engagement party, or special occasion.

Located in the heart of Aldgate, our historic pub combines character, great hospitality, and award-winning beer from our sister brewery, London Brewing Company. Founded in 2011, the brewery has built a reputation for crafting exceptional cask ales and modern keg beers, brewed at The Bohemia in North Finchley and served fresh at Ye Three Lords.

With flexible event spaces, tailored food and drinks packages, and exceptional beer, we have everything you need to make your event one to remember.

Whatever the occasion, our team is here to help bring it to life.

THE HISTORY

History runs deep at Ye Three Lords, and you'll feel it as soon as you walk through the door. The present building dates from around 1890, but there's a long tradition of a public house on this site with local accounts suggesting ale may have been served here as far back as the 16th century.

The pub is named after the last three Jacobite lords executed at nearby Tower Hill: William Boyd, 4th Earl of Kilmarnock, Arthur Elphinstone, 6th Lord Balmerino, and Simon Fraser, 11th Lord Lovat. All three were condemned after the 1745 Jacobite Rebellion. Kilmarnock and Balmerino were beheaded together in August 1746. Lord Lovat followed in April 1747 and became the final person publicly beheaded in Britain, bringing an end to aristocratic executions at Tower Hill. Local tradition says that Kilmarnock and Balmerino spent their last night at the inn on this site before being taken to meet their fate.
